

What is La Celebración Latina?

La Celebración Latina is a celebratory program that highlights Latino graduates at the University of Michigan. The mission of the program is to recognize the achievements of the graduates as well as stress its cultural significance to the Latino community.

Additionally, this event serves as an incentive to current and future students to attain the ultimate goal of graduation. The purpose of La Celebración Latina is to celebrate our graduates, as well as to honor everyone who helped them accomplish this wonderful achievement, including family members, friends, faculty, staff and administrators.

La Celebración Latina is held annually during spring commencement weekend. We encourage interested graduates to participate in La Celebración Latina as a supplemental activity to their respective University commencement ceremonies.

How can you get involved?

Each year, La Celebración Latina Planning Committee includes the help of graduating seniors, undergraduates, graduate students, faculty and staff. No matter who you are, we need your input! Consider being a part of this legendary annual UM tradition.
